Explanatory Notes

- A disclosable court outcome is one that is recorded by the court and has not been rehabilitated or spent under the Criminal Law (Rehabilitation of Offenders) Act 1986 (Qld) and, in the case of Commonwealth convictions, the Crimes Act 1914 (Commonwealth), and does not breach the confidentiality provisions of the Youth Justice Act 1992 (Qld).
- This certificate lists national disclosable court outcomes.
- Legislation in various states and territories and the Commonwealth of Australia restricts the information that can be disclosed about a person's court outcomes unless specific exemptions apply under law. Legislative exemptions can include specific types of employment, voluntary work, licenses or membership of a profession. The information provided will include all disclosable convictions of findings of guilt by a court.
- It is not recommended that copies are made unless the person or organisation assessing the NPC can provide the individual with assurances that the contents of the certificate will be kept confidential, and the certificate itself is securely stored and disposed of appropriately.
- There is a time lapse between the recording of convictions by courts and the updating of police information and reference systems. This certificate only reflects the completeness and accuracy of these records on the date displayed on the front of this certificate.
- This check has been conducted on the basis of the name and date of birth details supplied by the person as provided above. Every care has been taken to ensure the accuracy of the check however, it is possible that the police information and reference systems may contain information recorded against this person under another name or alias.
